BILLS POUND CADETS
IN HOMECOMING BOUT

The Varsity gridgers made it three in a row on Friday night, as they defeated the Cadets of CBC for the seventh consecutive time: the final score was 35-12. As the crowd, estimated at 10,000, looked on, the U.-High extended its commanding lead in a series with CBC, which now stands at 31 wins, 15 losses, 2 ties.

Throughout the first quarter, however, and much of the second, the Bills' offense lay dormant. After the Cadets took a 6-0 lead in the first period on an 83 yard pass completion from Mike Kopsky to Dave Guimbarda (the conversion attempt hit the goalpost), it looked like the Bills' hopes for yet another BiState Conference title might be in danger. After a fumble stalled the Bills' first sustained drive at the CB 15 yard line, the defense stiffened. Then, late in the second quarter, Dan Hanneke brought the Junior Bills' offense to life.

The Bills appeared to tie score on a 23 yard pass to Mark Guy in the end zone, but it was ruled that he did not come down inbounds. On the following play, the Bills pulled some razzle-dazzle, faking a 40 yard-field goal; Dan Hanneke hit Phil Sidlo with a pass which was good for 22 yards and a first down at the CBC 1 yard line. Hanneke capped off the 55 yard drive on the following play, as he (continued on the back)

IN SEARCH OF DR. ROBINSON

On November 26, a group of SLUH seniors will embark upon an archeological expedition that will take them across the treacherous Mississippi River and into that enigmatic overgrowth known to many as Illinois. The expedition, made up of seniors engaged in 18-18 History, will be headed by faculty member Dr. Robinson (I presume) and will forge its way to Kamps-ville, Illinois, the site of the famed Koster digs. These digs have recently yielded the oldest archeological finds in all of North America. Scientists there have uncovered 11 stratigraphical earth layers; that is, they have penetrated the ruins of 11 separate civilizations.

The seniors will not only be able to visit the site itself, but they will also tour the laboratory where finds are classified and dated.

As yet, only 30 seniors have signed up for this trip. If you are a senior taking history, or if you have a deep interest in archeology, see Dr. Robinson or senior Mike James to sign up to participate in this investigation. The fee is 5 dollars, which will be used for bus fare, and which might also be used to buy safari hats.

Speaking of Eskimos...

This coming summer SLUH will sponsor its first trip to Alaska, probably during the month of June. The crew will have to be small due to the means of travel. The trip to Seattle will probably be by way of the Bad Lands and Black Hills of South Dakota, and the return from Seattle via the coast or Oregon and California. The itinerary from Seattle will be by ferry boat along the coast of Canada and Alaska, with stops at the main islands and moderate backpack trips to government cabins and camping areas. The total cost for the month including all travel, food and lodging will be about $350. If you want more information, see Fr. Pieper in room 113.

BAT NITE AT THE U. HIGH

Hide your plasma, and lock your blood bank! The world's first and foremost vampire is coming to SLUH next weekend in the Dauphin Players' production of "Count Dracula." This new version of the old story, written by Ted Tiller and directed by Fr. A.J. Deeman, will star Steve Lewis in the title role. The bats will fly at 8:00 on Nov. 15, 16 and 17. Tickets are just 75¢ with a Student Pass, and $1.25 without.

scored on a 1 yard keeper. The first of Tom Rosen_auer's five PATs gave the Bills a 7-6 lead with 3:07 remaining in the half. Not satisfied with a one point margin, the Bills drove 40 yards in 2:24, taking a 14-6 lead on a spectacular 13yard pass play from Hanneke to Ken Redel, with only 0:34 to play in the first half.

When the third quarter began, the Jr. Bills' offense was in high gear. Eight and one half minutes after the second half began, Kent Miller finished a long drive with a 5 yard TD run, which put the Bills ahead 21-6.

Fumble-itis once again took its deadly toll on the Jr. Bills, as they coughed up the football on their own 23 yard line. Seconds later, an 18 yard pass from Kopsky to Lynn Wheeler cut the Bills' lead to 21-12. CBC's attempted two point conversion was unsuccessful, as, after Kopsky scrambled from sideline to sideline and as far back as the 45 yard line, Tim Hill intercepted the pass in the end zone.

In the fourth quarter the Bills added two insurance touchdowns. Kent Miller scored his second touchdown of the night on a 4 yard romp, closing a 69 yard drive. Ken Redel then scored this second TD of the evening as he rambled 19 yards from scrimmage, giving the Jr. Bills a 35-12 lead-their eventual margin of victory. Daryl Casey then aborted a CBC drive late in the game, as he intercepted a Kopsky aerial with 3:53 to play.

Looking ahead to next weekend, it is especially important to note the fine game turned in by the Jr. Bills defense. The performance of the backfield was particularly impressive, since, at times, the secondary has bordered on porous. (Excluding the Cadets' first touchdown, the defense allowed only 47 yards net: 67 through the air, and -20 on the ground.) Moreover, if the Bills are to beat DeSmet (as a result of DeSmet's 27-15 victory over Althoff, they are tied with SLUH for the Bi-State conference lead, each team having a 2-0-0 record in the conference), it will be necessary for them to contain the passing combination of Tom McCarthy to Ray Vollmer. (Note: student activity passes will be honored for what turns out to be the 1974 Bi-State championship game between the Jr. Bills and the DeSmet Spartans. Game time is 2:00 p.m. Sunday, at O'Fallon Tech.)

...More Football News

The B-football team rebounded from last weeks loss to Althoff with a rousing 41-6 victory over CBC. The offense was lead by quarterbacks Bill Fulhorst and Steve Moore who completed 11 out of 11 passes for 200 yards and 2 TD's. The combined efforts of Bowman, Brennan, Gross, and Corby netted 100 yards and two additional Td's. The defense also scored with TD's by Tony Finan, who returned an interception 30 yards, and Matt Sullivan, who recovered a CBC fumble in the end-zone. Niemann, Berger, Corby, and Potter each recorded interceptions and two more fumbles were recovered by Lawder and Degregario. Dan Berger kicked 3 extra points and Tom Gross caught a pass for a 2 point conversion. The Bees' next game will be Saturday at Forest Park at 10:30.

CEES SHUT OUT

The C-team lost to CBC Thursday in a 6-0 game filled with mistakes. During the first half SLUH drove to the six yard line but fumbled the ball. In the second half, a drive that took them to the 5 was halted by an interception. The only scoring took place when CBC called a reverse which covered 35yds. to the SLUH 10. They then ran up the middle for a touchdown, but the two point conversion attempt was stopped. The team record now stands at 1-2-2.

AUDITORIUM GETS FACE-LIFT

On Tuesday October 22 work was begun to renovate the Auditorium. The first part of the project was the installation of a new ceiling, which was completed Friday, November 1, in time for the Homecoming Dance and Open House. This project was the effort of students who sacrificed much of their own time to do an excellent job. The next step in the renovation is the installation of conduit for the ten new lights that will be mounted on the sidewalls. Finishing touches will include painting the walls and possible resurfacing of the bleachers. Anyone interested in helping should see John Zinser in Hmr. 222.
